

Every year they meet in the most luxurious palaces around the globe. Leaders, bankers, financiers, industrials, heads of corporations, academics - the elite discussing world politics and economy. They are referred to as the Bilderberg group because their first meeting was held in the Bilderberg hotel, Oosterbeek, Netherlands.

Every week they meet in the municipality. They are called members of a district committee.

Both on overall and local level, and on every level in-between, truth is hidden from the general public. Truth is reserved only for those privileged by the society. Or heritage.

Every consecutive day media is full of useless, meaningless data and commercials while scientific and educational programme is overly margined. Public school system is designed to produce an inferior citizens.

I would personally love to examine Vatican archives and Swiss vaults.

Did you ever lie? Well, lie is a human natural response to cover unpleasant things or prevent exposure to the harmful truth. Everyone lies sometimes. I know you lied. If you tell me that you didn't then I caught you in the act of doing it.

Why wouldn't "they" lie to us?

Who are "they"? Politicians, media, capitalists, industrials, clergy, generals, secret services, bureaucrats, preachers, parents, members of a district committee, merchants, waiters. The list is ongoing.

Lie is a cheap but effective weapon: I can tell you one thousand (1000) truths about myself but you will not believe a single one. I can tell you just one (1) fictional story and you will immediately embrace it. But... It actually reveals your, not mine, character.

Mediocre people are ignorant, naive, untrustworthy, dishonest, malevolent, selfish, vain, narcissistic, treacherous. They refuse to learn and neglect science, intellectually deteriorate on daily basis, but wear beards and glasses to appear smarter. They drink alcohol to invoke their inner beauty. They contradict extensive and specific knowledge with their stupid remarks. If you act or look differently or if you are more competent then they form a mob to eliminate you by planting things on your behalf and by spreading rumours meant to discredit you. I can't leave my house without being followed and watched by local gang members and religious fanatics who then immediately inform their superiors about my behaviour and detailed itinerary of my movement. Perks of living in a ghetto?

They accused me of being stupid, illiterate, vulgar, insane, alcoholic and violent. Therefore, in state service I could only work at low end jobs. Like copying files or stacking papers in an archive. Without fresh air, sunlight and toilet.

Mediocrities avoid talking to me. If they do they just overhear my side because they consider me being much under their superior intellectual level.

Have you heard of Niccolò Machiavelli? Read his work "The Prince" (Il Principe). I will deduct one sentence which best describes the content: "For a ruler it is better to be widely feared than to be greatly loved". Now you know why they, every once and a while, break the sound barrier with a military airplane just above our heads. They are intimidating us citizens with brutal force.

The most popular conspiracy is the one about UFOs. You think that only Pentagon covers the truth? Kremlin and Beijing are innocent? Come on, I bet they all have secret files regarding extraterrestrial encounters but it would be too much of a social shock for the piety communities worldwide if they are revealed. As long as the truth stays hidden, we are the only specie in an entire Universe and priests are God`s exclusive representatives.

Often, conspiracy theories are related to secret societies. The most recognized are Knights Templar, Illuminati and Freemasonry. I discard lizards, proposed by a former footballer and fame seeker David Icke, although bureaucrats do resemble them in many ways.

Jesus wasn`t resurrected. He was teleported. Muhammad ascension to heaven? Same thing. In Kibeho Sun didn`t move - it was an alien spacecraft. Pyramids are the docking stations. Almost every civilization in the human history had direct encounters with the E.T.s. There are illustrations on a walls of the caves depicting God like beings flying in the vessels coming from the outer space.

Why clergy wear shallow hats on the top of their heads? Because they know for the dangerous cosmic radiation. Oh, they didn`t tell their little sheeps? Perhaps it would sound strange to believers how all loving God can produce such an evil and expose His innocent children without any mercy or protection. What kind of God is that?

I guess you didn't hear about Single Event Effect (SEE)? It is a randomized local occurrence which can happen to an electronic circuitry, anywhere on Earth and including human brain, when single, energetic particle, like proton or HZE ion, flips a crucial bit of information or instruction in the running code totally reversing its meaning. It makes you do the opposite of what you have desired. All mission-critical devices in the NASA spacecrafts must be tested for SEE!

Casinos have conspired. They avoid windows (daylight) and serve you free alcoholic drinks to loosen your concentration. Betting places apply number tricks. Companies invest in consumer behaviour research to gain control over the buyers.

Every business branch has its guild meant to protect and promote particular interests. What is that if not legal conspiracy? Do you think they discuss how to make their services (products) cheaper?

Talking about conspiracies... You probably forgot about Malaysia Airlines flight 370? Entire Boeing 777, the world's largest twinjet with 239 people on board, disappeared without trace. Without trace!

Everything is a hoax and brainwashing perpetual.

Freedom is an illusion.
